

THE HALLMARK

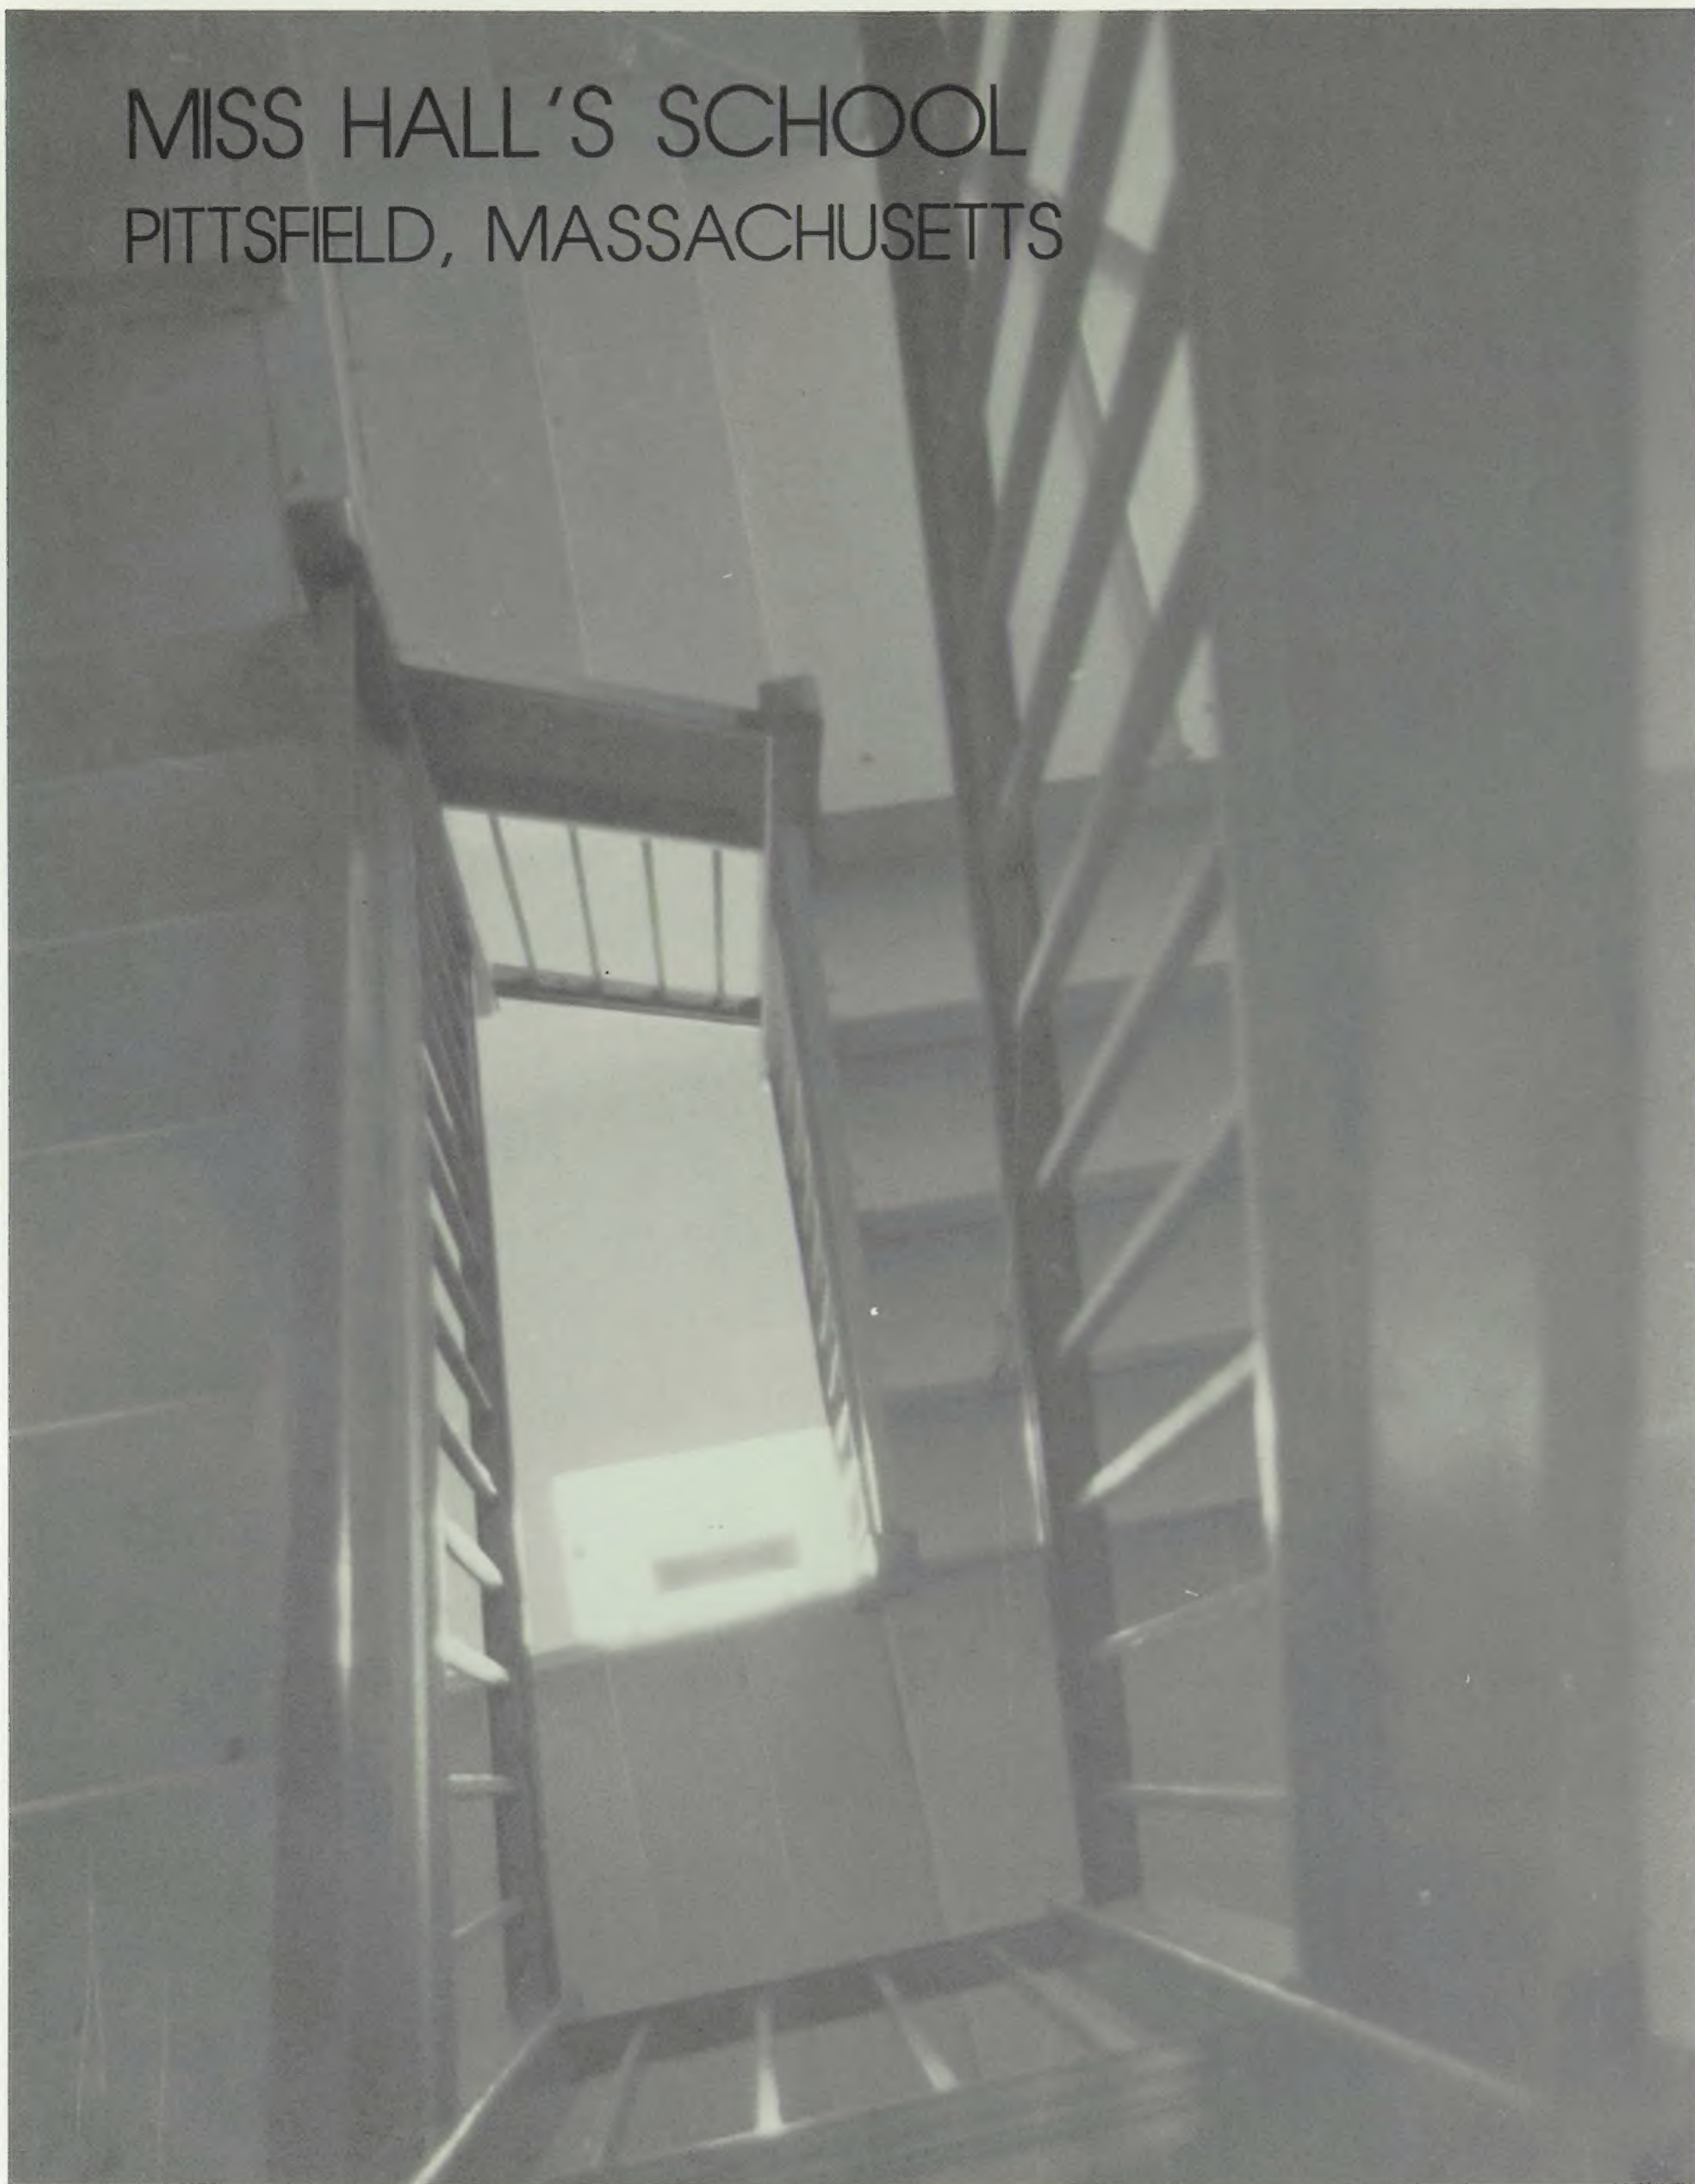

1982

MISS HALL'S SCHOOL
PITTSFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

It is extremely difficult to put into words the loss Miss Hall's School experienced upon Mr. Buerger's death last Fall.

To quote Mr. Bussey, one of his greatest admirers, "He loved his family. He loved education. He loved the Latin language and literature. He loved his Church and its timeless Latin Mass. He loved the city of Toronto, bit parts in school plays, Notre Dame football, big cars, a messy desk, the Berkshire Hillsmen, neckties from prehistoric times, and those cursed Yankees. And, he loved his country . . ." More than any of the above, though, he loved all of us and the institution we comprise, Miss Hall's School. Everyone of us, student and faculty alike, strove in a variety of ways, for Mr. Buerger's approval and affection. And, inevitably, we all received it, from the man who was, in many ways, father to us all.

We will each have our separate memories of "Mr. B."; mine, the jocular greetings he gave me whenever I returned from vacations. As was a father, he always was here, waiting to offer me a welcome. I valued too, his admonitions when the Art room seemed a bit out of line.

The reinstitution of the HALLMARK as Miss Hall's School's yearbook would have been a moment of great joy to Mr. Buerger. Our dedication of this edition to him is a welcome opportunity to share that joy.

This 1982 HALLMARK is fondly dedicated to the memory of Joseph F. Buerger.

Reflections on "In Memoriam"

The day was as bright and clear as his life and dedication to his school. The wind blew cold with a chill which marked the end of an era, and warned that one must follow in those footsteps of loyalty, dedication to others, and love of school, or all would have been in vain.

Goodbye to all my friends
 Goodbye to people I've trusted,
 I've got to go out and make my own way,
 I've been thinking about my home,
 But my love light seems so far away
 And I feel like it's all been done
 Somebody's trying to make me stay But you know I've got to be movin' on.
 So keep your chin up, forget the pain.
 I know you'll make it if you try again.
 There's no use quitting when the world is waiting for you.

WENDY ELIZABETH RANDALL

I have seen myself change along with the changing of the seasons. I have experienced responsibility, admiration, satisfaction and love. Whenever the fire inside of me has been smoldered it has been rekindled by the friends I have. Our memories that we have shared and laughed about till we cried will grow with me when I grow and will die when I die. The tears that form in my eyes are gently brushed away by a firm but soft hand. There is a mysterious part of me which no one knows because I am afraid of disappointing you, but I know that nothing can really disappoint you since you could never disappoint me.

Thanks Dad, Mom, and Kevin.

Good luck little Robes. Again, what do I say??

Whitney, you were right. I did need a smile, a push, and an occasional bottle of Riunite, but most of all I needed you. Thanks love.

Aston Martin

Every great automobile reflects a dream. From a beginning in 1914, Lionel Martin's goal was to build a fast touring car for which the primary consideration was Quality.

From the hand formed all aluminum body to the 4-cam, aluminum V8 engine built by one man proud enough to put his name on it; from the interior trimmed with the finest Connolly hides, Wilton wool carpets and burled walnut to the awesome strength of the steel platform chassis and the masterful feel of the rack and pinion steering and four wheel disc brakes, today's Aston Martin brilliantly reflects the original goal.

If you have driven a succession of expensive automobiles but have yet to find one that conforms to your unyielding demand for excellence, the time has come to experience an Aston Martin.
